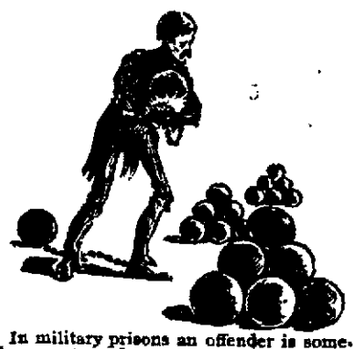
(Sears, Roebuck & Co. are thoroughly reliable.—Editor.)



In military prisons an offender is sometimes sentenced to carry cannon balls from one place to another and pile them up all day long. That is all. Perhaps it does not seem very terrible but it soon wears his life out. It is practically a death sentence, and he knows it; he would rather be shot. Many a sick man feels the same way about the burden of disease that he is lugging back and forth from day to day. He would as soon be down with a mortal disease. It will come to that sooner or later.

A man's life can be dragged out by dyspepsia and liver complaint. The experience of Mr. J. T. Cardwell, of Fall Creek Depot, Pittsylvania Co., Va., shows how Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery saves people from consumption by waking up their nutritive organism and giving it power to supply pure, healthy blood, which drives out blood poisons and dead tissues and builds up sound, wholesome flesh and muscle.

"I feel it my duty," writes Mr. Cardwell in a letter to Dr. Pierce, "to write you of the lasting benefits derived from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and little 'Pellets.' Seven years ago I contracted a severe cold, which baffled the skill of one of the best physicians in my State. It ran on and I continually grew worse until I concluded to write to the 'World's Dispensary Medical Association.' The answer to my inquiry advised me to use 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pellets' for indigestion and liver complaint; at this time two months had passed. In two or three days after I had commenced the use of your medicine my cough had entirely stopped, my digestion was better, my low spirits driven away and I felt new life and vigor in my whole body."

This marvelous "Discovery" makes nerve force and rugged power. It is far better than oily emulsions, it does not make flabby fat, it does not increase the weight of corpulent people.

ENGLISH ARMY LIFE.

HOW TOMMY ATKINS FARES IN THE MATTER OF FOOD.

What He Must Attain Before He Can Secure the Privilege of Marrying. How the Wives of the Privates Live In the Barracks.

The orderly man clatters in at the door with a steaming can of tea, from which he rapidly fills the basins, the milk and sugar having been already added before the tea left the cookhouse. No allowance is made in barracks for men of fastidious tastes. If a man prefers his tea unsweetened, he can go elsewhere; the taste of the majority is alone consulted. The tea having been served out, the orderly man now proceeds to divide the bread into chunks, one for each man, and announces that the "extra" that morning is butter. This announcement is a welcome one, and the butter, being produced in its wrapper of blue canteen paper, is speedily divided into equal portions, one for each member of the mess.

Should any comrade be so unfortunate as to be languishing in the guardroom, awaiting disposal by the commanding officer, the orderly man has now to take his allowance to him, the tea being poured into a tin canteen and the bread and butter wrapped in paper and stowed in a haversack.

But it may be asked: "Surely we have been told that soldiers enjoy more variety than plain bread and butter at their breakfasts. Have we not heard of savory kippers, of porridge—yes, even of eggs and bacon?"

True, such are the dishes encouraged by generals and colonels who like to earn a reputation for looking after the welfare of their men, but these fancy relishes are not much encouraged by Tommy Atkins, for the simple reason that his funds will not allow of his receiving more than an infinitesimal portion of the kipper or whatever may be the favorite breakfast dainty of his commanding officer. All that the corporal in charge of the grocery book has to spend daily is threepence per man in mess or under $4 for a company with the average strength of 60 men in mess.

When it is realized that with this money ten, salt, pepper, vegetables for dinner, flour, if a "duff" is to ornament the dinner table, and all the groceries which the soldier needs to eke out the rations of bread and meat already described have to be provided, it will be understood that the question of providing extras for breakfast and tea is a difficult one to solve, and that the corporal naturally prefers something like butter, which all appreciate, to some other dainty which may not appeal to the tastes of his constituency.

The question of permission to marry is a burning one in the barrack room. Only a limited number of men are allowed to marry, the strength of the roll varying with the establishment of the corps. Sergeants are given permission to marry as a matter of course, if there is a vacancy in the establishment, but no soldier is allowed to enter the blessed state unless he has seven years' service, £5 in the savings bank and two good conduct badges. I have heard it said that there is such a thing as borrowing the £5 till the necessary permission has been obtained, but there is no getting over the other two conditions.

The married quarters seem comfortable enough. What strikes us most is the enormous number of babies and quite young children who swarm round the door of every quarter, occasional yells leading to the hasty arrival of a flushed and heated looking matron to restore order in a summary fashion. The allowance of space does not strike one as particularly liberal, soldiers with small families being given only one room, with the minutest possible scullery, the fathers of larger families rejoicing in an extra room. Sergeants, as a rule, have two rooms, but otherwise have no pull over their comrades of lower rank.

The wives of the private soldiers add largely to the scanty pay of their husbands by doing washing for the men of their husbands' company, and twice blessed is the woman whose good man belongs to a company having few married soldiers. In this case she will be able to get more to do than her less fortunate sisters. Some of the women who have a reputation as washerwomen earn plenty of money by washing for the officers of the regiment. The soldier's wife seems to drift naturally into being a washerwoman.

A little conversation with the ladies is a liberal education in esprit de corps; each woman thoroughly identifies herself with the regiment to which her husband belongs, and even in these days of short service it is not difficult to find women whose fathers and grandfathers have soldiered in bygone days under the tattered colors now hanging in the sacred precincts of the officers' mess.

The ladies of the regiment, as a rule, take great interest in the welfare of their humbler sisters, frequently visiting them in their quarters and giving more than their sympathy at one of those crises which occur so frequently in the married block and generally lead ultimately to the object of their solicitude applying for extra accommodation owing to an unauthorized addition to the strength of the battalion.—"Social Life In the British Army," by a British Officer, in Harper's Magazine.

RAILROAD CHARGES ON ORES.

The Reno Gazette, in last Thursday's issue, rushes to the defense of the Southern Pacific and flatly contradicts an assertion made in these columns a few days since, to the effect that owing to the excessive freight charges imposed by the railroad company, the miners of this State were practically prohibited from shipping their ore to reduction works. In the course of its comment the Gazette makes use of the following language:

"This is not true, the railroad company gives a very low rate on ore in this State, and one that no miner or company of miners can justly find fault with. About the only ore that is being shipped in the State at the present time comes from Oreana to the Reno Reduction Works, a distance of 109 miles, and to the amount of about one carload per day, upon which the rate is $.0525 per hundred on $50 ore and $11 per hundred on $100 ore."

It is evident from the above that the editor of the Gazette either doesn't know what he is talking about or else he is willfully trying to misrepresent the situation. We are charitable enough to presume the former. But let us understand each other. In the first place, we made no reference to the rates to the Reno Reduction Works for the very good reason that up to a few days ago that plant was not in operation and was not buying ore. We had reference to the conditions which prevail now and have been in force for many years to points outside the State. In the event of shipment to Salt Lake, for instance, it costs the miner of this district from $11 to $22 per ton, according to the size of the lot, for $100 ore, a distance of about 300 miles, for railroad freight alone. The company will set no valuation on the ore at the shipping point, but demands a duplicate assay certificate from the smelter before it will fix a rate, and as all freights are taken out by the smelting company, the miner has no way of knowing how much he is being held up for. It would be interesting to know where the miner would get off if, by an accident, the ore was lost, mixed or destroyed in transit. It must be remembered, also, that a lessee is frequently months in extracting a ton of ore that will go over $100 a ton at the present price of silver, and often the ore costs him in time, labor and money twice or three times its actual market value, but as it is taken out in development work in search of better leads, he must, perforce, realize what he can for it, or give up in despair. Of this time, labor and expenditure the railroad company takes no account, but arbitrarily demands its pound of flesh. By what right, can the Gazette inform us, does the railroad demand to know the assay value before fixing its tariff, when it will place no valuation on the same at the shipping point? Does it cost the company a cent more to transport $500 ore than it does $10 ore?

In isolated districts the item of transportation to the railroad cuts an important figure, and to avoid paying freight on waste the miner endeavors to have his ores as clean as possible. Under the present system of the railroad company he only escapes one source of expense to fall into the clutches of the corporation later. For it is plain that the apparent discrimination in favor of low grade ores is no concession at all, since the increased tonage offsets the reduced rates.

We are perfectly willing and glad to accord full justice to the railroad company at all times, and with the rates to the Reno Reduction Works we find no fault whatever except in the matter of charging double for one class of ore what it does for another. This is manifestly unfair.

The Gazette, in the above quotation, admits that very little ore is being shipped at present. Can it tell why this is so? Is it not because the transportation rates are too high to admit of profitable shipment, while the cost of supplies necessary for the reduction of the ores at home is beyond the capacity of the mines to pay? Mining men tell us that it costs less to land machinery and supplies of all kinds at Ogden from New York or Chicago than it does from Ogden to Elko. We presume this is done to force investors to purchase supplies at San Francisco, where the prices are just enough lower to shut out anything from east of Ogden. It is protection (to California) with a vengeance, and we all know how Nevada has thrived under the system.

The Gazette seems to have an inkling of this, for it says, in concluding the above:

"In fact, the same proportionate rate is in force from Reno to the Utah line."

And why, pray, should it stop there? Are the markets of the world to forever remain a terra incognita to Nevada producers? Even the most rabid protectionist never advocated a prohibitive tariff between States.—Times-Review.

THE Ogden Standard says: "The Tribune has become a firm adherent to McKinleyism, not because of any pique, but owing to its conviction that silver is dead and McKinleyism is a good thing for the country."

If "silver is dead" it was killed by McKinleyism, and yet McKinleyism is a good thing for the country! The Tribune should pray most fervently to be saved from its friends.

SCIENTISTS who are speculating over the probability of soon being able to communicate with inhabitants of the planet Mars through the medium of wireless telegraphy, may encounter some trouble at "the other end of the line" because of that people's unfamiliarity with the Morse alphabet.

The Smash-Up.

The freight wreck reported in the JOURNAL yesterday morning was worse than the first news indicated. A regular and a special freight train came together head on near Golconda shortly before midnight. The track was torn up for several hundred feet, both engines were derailed and a number of cars piled up and smashed. Fireman Merrill received injuries from which he died a few hours later. He was a brother-in-law of Engineer Isoard who handles the shifter in the Reno yard. All trains were delayed fifteen hours. The body of Merrill went through on No. 2 yesterday afternoon. Mr. Isoard accompanied the remains to Sacramento.

Gafford Will Serve His Sentence.

The petition for writ of habeas corpus by H. A. Gafford has been denied by the Supreme Court. In January, 1895, Gafford was convicted in Washoe county for attempt to break jail, and afterwards convicted and sentenced for seven years for assault with intent to kill. The four-years' sentence having expired, Gafford claimed that he was illegally held in custody by the warden of the prison, as it was not specified when the second sentence should begin. The court decided otherwise and the defendant was sent back to prison to serve out his sentence.

Rector Van Deerlin Abroad.

Rev. E. J. H. Van Deerlin, formerly rector of Trinity church in Reno, is now a dignitary in the Church of England at Kohala, Hawaiian Islands. He receives a salary of $100 per month, besides priestly perqisites. His daughters, Miss Evelyn and Miss Hilda, are engaged in Kindergarten or missionary school work, for which they are well paid.

The many friends of the family in Reno will be pleased to learn of this prosperous turn in the affairs of Rector Van Deerlin.

Fourth of July.

Owing to the high school exercises last evening the meeting to arrange for the celebration of the Fourth of July was postponed to be held in Wheelmen's Hall on Monday evening next. Time is growing short and the citizens, if they desire to recognize the day in a becoming manner, should turn out in force and start the ball to rolling. A number have signified a willingness to contribute liberally. Remember Monday evening at Wheelmen's Hall.

Too Capable a Man.

In speaking of Sol Hilp being a victim to the broken promises of the silver party Board of Asylum Trustees, in not securing the position of bookkeeper at the institution, the White Pine News says:

The job after all was not much to lose, and a year from now Sol will probably be glad he didn't get it. He is too capable a business man to remain long on the shelf.

A Fruitless Errand.

Deputy Sheriff Hayes was called to the telephone the other day. An officer was wanted at the Sparks ranch. Taking a plentiful supply of shooting irons and handcuffs, he drove out to the ranch, and discovered that he had been summoned by a homeless imbecile who had managed to work the 'phone and Johnny at the same time.

Flames are Spreading.

The force at Schaeffer's mill are fighting fire. The flames are climbing the ridge on the other side of which the Truckee Lumber Company has 3,000,000 feet of logs ready for the mill. A large quantity of cord-wood is in the track of the fire.

LOCALITIES.

A forest fire is raging in the vicinity of Lake Tahoe.

Yesterday was a very warm article. The mercury touched the 95 mark.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Taylor and children left for an extended visit to San Francisco last evening.

Four heavily laden grain wagons, drawn by eighteen animals, arrived in Reno yesterday. They came from near Gardnerville.

Engineer Leon M. Hall of the Comstock Pumping Association has returned to San Francisco after spending several days looking for the most favorable site to locate the power plant.

Ranchers complain that there is difficulty in obtaining enough men for hay cutting. The usual exodus of surplus labor from California is not taking place this year, work being plentiful there. Employers of unskilled labor in other lines are having the same trouble getting help.

AN OPEN LETTER.

The Board of Regents Talk to the People.

To the People of Nevada:—The people of the State of Nevada are not wanting in State pride or the recognition of home merit. That our University is worthy of the support of every citizen of the State, is rapidly being recognized. The citizens of Washoe county have given $12,000 for an Experimental Farm.

While California is considering if she may not profit by securing the services of Dr. Stubbs, it is quite time that we arouse ourselves to the value of his services, what he has accomplished and what he deserves. For five years he and his estimable family have occupied as a home, rooms designed for and now needed by students. The fulfillment of the duties and social obligations of a President of such an institution demands, and is usually accorded, a President's home, adapted to the uses incident to the official life of an University President. As a recognition of Dr. Stubbs' success and worth, a movement is on foot to raise a sufficient fund by individual subscription to at once build and furnish such a "Home." The Board of Regents will have the expenditure of the money and the residence will be built on the University grounds. Ten thousand dollars is the amount deemed necessary, and no part of the money subscribed will be due until that sum is subscribed.

Here is an opportunity for the people of the other counties to show that they appreciate the University and its work as well as those of Washoe county; and every student-graduate of the University may do something toward inducing those able to do so, to advance the money necessary to at once set about carrying out this plan.

It is believed that the Legislature of the State will refund the money at its next session, but we should not defer the consummation of such a worthy object for so long a time. Let the friends of the University and the youths of the State put their shoulders to the wheel and the President's residence is assured.

The Board of Regents have prepared a subscription list for each county which will be forwarded by to-night's mail, and it is hoped the best results will follow. All State papers are respectfully requested to copy this letter that all may be informed as to the movement. Respectfully

J. N. EVANS,
President of the Board of Regents.
By GEORGE H. TAYLOR,
Secretary.

General C. W. Irish yesterday came down from Carson, where he has been attending the U. S. court. He will remain a day or two in Reno. The General is superintending mining property in the Gold Creek region, and looks as though the high altitude of northeastern Nevada agreed with him.

I want to let the people who suffer from rheumatism and sciatica know that Chamberlain's Pain Balm relieved me after a number of other medicines and a doctor had failed. It is the best liniment I have ever known of.—J. A. DODGEN, Alpharetta, Ga. Thousands have been cured of rheumatism by this remedy. One application relieves the pain. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.

It has been demonstrated repeatedly in every State in the Union and in many foreign countries that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a certain preventive and cure for croup. It has become the universal remedy for that disease. M. V. Fisher of Liberty, W. Va., only repeats what has been said around the globe when he writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for several years and always with perfect success. We believe that it is not only the best cough remedy, but that is a sure cure for croup. It has saved the lives of our children a number of times." This remedy is for sale by Wm. Pinniger.

GRADUATION EXERCISES.

Eleven High School Pupils Receive Diplomas.

ADDRESS BY DR. J. E. STUBBS.

Essays and Orations, Solos, Choruses and Instrumental Music.

McKissick's Opera House was packed to the doors last night by an attentive audience, attracted by the graduation exercises of the Reno high school.

Upon the platform, which was handsomely decorated, were Principal Bray, the speakers and members of the board of education. The graduates were:

Mark Bradshaw, Della Levy, Edward Lyman, Lillian Lodge, Arthur Moler, Alma Pavola, Minnie Quinn, Jennie Riley, Elbert Stewart, Bertha Smith and May Wilson. The first honor was awarded to Della Levy; second honor, May Wilson; honorary mention, Minnie Quinn and Edward Lyman.

The program opened with an overture by the high school orchestra.

Prof. Bray made a brief introductory address, after which Arthur Moler discussed "Electrical Transmission," reviewing the history of the telephone and telegraph and telling of the progress made with wireless telegraphy, venturing the opinion that telephoning without wires would soon be accomplished. He closed with a forceful paraphrase: "One touch of science makes the whole world kin."

Bertha M. Smith read an essay upon "Woman's Work." She told of the emancipation of her sex and cited many noble women as examples of the possibilities along this line. She raised the question whether American home life would be improved or would degenerate under the new order of things, arguing that domesticity would not be threatened.

Members of the high school sang "Murmur Soft, Ye Breezes."

Hicksey M. Wilson read an admirable criticism of "Quo Vadis." Her picture of the banquet given by Nero, and her description of home and public life in the ancient empire, were splendid bits of English, showing careful study, not only of the masterpiece by Sienkewitz, but also of Roman history.

Minnie Elizabeth Quinn executed a piano solo, "Whispering Zephyr."

Della Levy read an essay entitled "Inscriptions." She told of the epitaph, an inscription carven upon stone which often outlasts the memory of the departed. The most long lived epitaph is engraved not upon a headstone but in the hearts of man. He who lives a noble life leaves an imperishable inscription.

Misses Pavola, Brandon, Quinn, Benson, Wilson and Ziegler sang a two-part song, "O'er the Moonlit Stream."

Jennie Alice Riley discussed "Fashionable Follies" in a caustic manner. While the ladies were severely scored for their fads and fashions, the men were shown to be not immune to the attacks of the baccilli of these follies. Such a happy commingling of wit and wisdom are rare in graduation essays—except in Reno.

Mrs. A. L. Layton sang "When the the Heart is Young" and was recalled.

Edward Dean Lyman made a rattling address on "Expansion." He showed himself to be an extremist in this policy but gave sound reasons for being so.

Song by the high school "Night."

Wm. Webster, president of the school board, presented the diplomas. He praised the work of the teachers and gave some good advice to the graduates.

Class song, by the members, "No Excellence Without Toil." Arranged by Jennie Alice Riley.

Dr. J. E Stubbs, president of the Nevada State University, delivered an address, taking for his subject "Your Inheritance and Mine." This inheritance is citizenship in the best country on the globe. We come into our legacy without toil or expense. It has been prepared for us by the labors and privations of our forefathers, who conquered the wilderness, gained independence and upbuilt the institutions of the land.

In preparing ourselves for the proper enjoyment of our inheritance it is necessary to improve every educational advantage, to battle against every danger that threatens our country; to foster every upbuilding influence, in order that those who follow us may succeed to a legacy even more glorious than ours.

A selection by the high school orchestra ended the fourteenth annual commencement exercises of the Reno high school.

Having a Great Run on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Manager Martin, of the Pierson drug store, informs us that he is having a great run on Chamberland's Cough Remedy. He sells five bottles of that medicine to one of any other kind, and it gives great satisfaction. In these days of la grippe there is nothing like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to stop the cough, heal up the sore throat and lungs and give relief in a very short time. The sales are growing, and all who try it are pleased with its prompt action.—South Chicago Daily Calumet For sale by Wm. Pinniger.

OUR TRANSPORTATION.

Some Facts Concerning the Valuation Rates.

We publish in our editorial columns to-day an article from the Tuscarora Times-Review, relative to freight charges on ore on the Central Pacific road. The article was shown to Mr. Field, the freight agent here, who informed a JOURNAL reporter that the rate on the Oreana ore was not a special one but was uniform throughout the State upon that class of ore. The rate on fifty dollar, or under, ore is as nearly as possible one cent per mile per ton, above fifty and under one hundred, 1 6-10; over one and up to three hundred, 2 3-10. These rates were established years ago when Mr. Beck started the reduction works and were entirely satisfactory to shippers on the line of the road as most of the ore came under the lowest rate. In fact, Mr. Field informed the reporter, none higher had been charged on any ore that was ever brought to the Reno works. He said he had never demanded exhibits of duplicate assay certificates and if the custom prevailed elsewhere on the line of the road he was not aware of it.

The JOURNAL publishes the statement of facts in justice to all concerned. We will furthermore, in justice to our evening contemporary, express our conviction that its statements were in accordance with the writer's partial knowledge of the facts, but without such information as was possessed by the editor of the Times-Review. The writer of this personally knows that for many years the miners of Tuscarora, and other districts in the eastern part of the State, have suffered from the grievance complained of by the Times-Review and that the statements in its article are absolutely true. We do not know the present cost of shipping ores of different grades from Elko to Salt Lake City or Sandy in Utah, but we do know that charges have to be paid to two different roads. The distance from Elko to Reno is 314 miles. We have given above, the transportation rates per mile, and perhaps our Tuscarora friends, and ore shippers from other points in eastern Nevada, by a little figuring will ascertain it will be to their interest and profit to send their ore for reduction to Reno, instead of across the State line into Utah.

A Time About a Time-piece.

A gold watch, two rival claimants thereto and a brace of policemen comprised the dramatis personnae in a two-act comedy-tragedy, the first scene of which is laid at the railroad station in this city. Time—last night.

The curtain rises upon the watch reposing in the pocket of a man who said he purchased it from the other claimant, a woman. She, the tearful heroine, advanced to the center of the stage and implored the heavy villain, claimant No. 1, to restore the ticker of which he had defrauded her. [slow music.]

At this juncture Leeper and Helmold, in clever make-ups as myrmidons of the law, appear upon the scene. The heroine points the finger of scorn at the heavy villain, who discovers that he is "foiled again." He exclains aside: "There is but one avenue of escape. I'll take the train to Milpitas and soak the watch at my uncle's."

A plan was concocted by the astute cops to nab their man at Verdi and the curtain fell upon the first act.

Announcement.

I have just received a complete line of working and dress shirts of the latest patterns and styles, which I will sell at bedrock prices. I wish to call particular attention to a working shirt I am handling. It is undoubtedly the best working shirt that was ever sold on the Coast for the money. Call and examine the same.

I have all the latest patterns in golf and negligee shirts, in silks and madras cloths.

I am pleased to announce that I have secured the agency of the Wheeler overall, famous on this Coast as being the best fitting and most durable overall on the market. It is rivited, triple-sewed and made of the heaviest and best denim. Try a pair and be convinced.

THE GUBERNATORIAL CONTEST.

It May or May Not be Decided Next Monday.

The JOURNAL learns through a correspondent in Carson who is well posted upon the details of the gubernatorial contest case, "that McMillan's attorneys objected to 421 and the Sadler side to 287, making 708 ballots in all. They are from the counties of Nye, Lyon, Lander, Lincoln, Eureka, Esmeralda, Humboldt and Elko. Mr. McMillan closed his case last Monday and the court took a recess until next Monday. During the interval the court is examining the ballots objected to, so as to be able to decide upon their validity. The votes of the counties above named are the ones called for by McMillan. Very naturally the preponderance of illegal ballots objected to is supposed to be against Sadler, but the court may decide differently and the completion of the canvass is liable to put a very different aspect upon the case than at present appears. The court may decide that no evidence is shown of fraud or illegality effecting the vote for Governor, and that Sadler's plurality of twenty-two is in accordance with the honestly expressed wishes of the people."

As the JOURNAL understands it, if the number of illegal votes rejected by the court do not in the aggregate overcome Sadler's returned plurality of twenty-two, the case will end with the canvass already made and Sadler will win. If, on the other hand, the illegal votes for Sadler are in excess of that number over the rejected ballots for McMillan, the respondent, Sadler, can call for the ballots of other counties which gave McMillan majorities, in the hope of regaining the votes he has lost. In sporting parlance, "no game is out until it is played out," and the gubernatorial game is likely to continue for several weeks longer, or at least until the last trump card in both hands has been played upon the board.

Discovered by Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and two bottles, has absolutey cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz.' Thus writes H. C. Hamnick & Co of Shelby N. C. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

Important Announcement.

Removal of S. Emrich's dry goods store to store next door south, on account of rebuilding a new front and other alternations in place of business presently occupied. The store being very much smaller, I am compelled to reduce my stock and will therefore allow 10 per cent discount on every dollar purchased for cash from 50 cents, upward until further notice. Will move on 17th of this month.

THE GOLDEN AGE.

There are no days like bygone days,
So thinks the senile heart,
No ways there are like ancient ways,
None now such bliss impart;
For when the vision back is cast
It sees a golden age.
That heart then sighs for all the past
And deems the action sage.

The brightest days are coming days,
Affirms the youth in glee,
And on the future is his gaze
While present moments flee.
The golden age is yet to beam
Before his eager mind,
And thus his thoughts with luster gleam
As they their views unbind.

But to the sensual epicure
The olden age is now.
With plenty near his joy is sure,
And pleasure crowns his brow.
Within the present days he tries
To taste the chiefest good,
Asserting that the rich and wise
Are those supplied with food.

The true philosophy is found
In looking up and on
Away from sordid, earthly ground
Toward everlasting dawn.
The better life beyond us lies,
Declares the sacred page,
And those who look with faith lit eyes
Discern the golden age.
